

YEAR 4 NEWSLETTER

Year 4 have been working hard learning all about the Ancient Egyptians this half term. Professor McGinty wowed us all with his Egyptian workshop on Monday 12th October. Oak Hill in turn wowed Professor McGinty with their knowledge of Ancient Egyptian life. "He was funny, silly and sort of childish. He passed some precious things around that we had to be really careful with," stated Ruby and Jaiden from 4J. The teachers have been very impressed with the quality of some of our written tasks, the diary entry as Howard Carter on the day he discovers Tutankhamun was especially memorable.

Tips to help your child with punctuation:

Spot the full stop, question mark, exclamation mark or comma on a page in their reading books. Ask the children why they are there. See how many more that they notice as you are reading with them.

Home school communication books.

Please note down anything you need passed on to the teacher in the home school communication book and encourage your child to hand it in straight away. Please also feel free to note down anything that you have done at home to work towards the targets given to your child.

Please ensure the home school communication book is in school every day.

Snacks for play time.

Please could you pack a small healthy snack for your child to eat at playtime, something like fruit, cereal bars or rice cakes, not crisps or chocolate if at all possible. Please could it be labelled and put in their book bags at the start of the day so that they can put it into the snack tray, ready for playtime.

There have been some amazingly creative homeworks this half term. Well done to everyone for their efforts! They have been on display and will be returned to you at half term.
