Dinosaur Roar!!!

What an exciting day! Reception welcomed a very special visitor on the 9th November. Her name was Millie and she was a young Tyrannosaurus Rex! Children spent the morning digging for fossils and bones and finding out about life millions of years ago in the age of the dinosaur.

Christmas cards Children can bring

Christmas cards for their friends from 7th December onwards. Envelopes will need to have child's name and class written on.

Dinosaurs Alive!

We have been exploring a mystery island. To our amazement, we have found that dinosaurs still live there. What a fantastic opportunity to find out about dinosaurs and their habits!

A collection of illustrations of various dinosaurs, including a green T-Rex, a brown T-Rex, and a long-necked sauropod.

How to help at home

We are delighted to see so many of you practising letter sounds in homework books every week.

It really supports the work we do in school in reading and writing. Please keep practising all the sounds daily. You could play I Spy...

If you have letter magnets for the fridge try using the sounds from their homework to make simple 3 letter words e.g. cat, pin.

Have fun letter spotting when out and about...e.g. How many s can you see? Or reading car number plates.
